

STUDENT SPOTLIGHT: NOELLE ANGLADE

This interview first appeared in the April 2021
National Coordinating Center Newsletter.

What is your name, where are you from, and what college are you attending?

My name is Noelle Anglade, I am from Princeton, NJ and I attend The College of New Jersey. I am a sophomore.

What classes are you taking, and which is your favorite?

Some classes that I am taking include Introduction to Greek Mythology, the Super Heroic Construct, which is a writing class, Academic Support Seminar, Personal Finance, Personal Exploration, Collaborative Community Living Seminar, and Community Connections.

My favorite class is the Super Heroic Construct because I am writing about superheroes and I find the papers that we have been writing about so far to be really fascinating. For example, we just finished writing a paper about Black Panther, one of my favorite Marvel superheroes.

What do you like to do when you're not attending class?

When I am not attending class, some things that I like to do include going out for walks, going horseback riding, and I also like to spend time with my friends over Zoom by watching movies.

What positive effects has college had on your life?

Something that has been good for me about college is that I have been able to make so many new friends enabling me to expand my friendships, I have also been able to improve more on my writing and write even better papers, and I have also been able to improve on my social skills and have longer conversations with my friends both in school and outside of school.

Can you share anything about how COVID has affected your college experience?

COVID has affected my college experience in many ways. A challenge that I have had to overcome while attending virtual classes is that I have trouble staying on task and I find myself moving on to somewhere else while on my Zoom, but I always manage to get back on track.

Noelle during winter semester

Make sure to try and enjoy your new life and go do something new."

—Noelle's advice for parents with children in college

Sign up to receive our monthly newsletter for more interviews, events and activities, and Think College publications.

If you or someone you know would like to be interviewed, contact sheila.johnson@umb.edu for more information.

ThinkCollege

NATIONAL COORDINATING CENTER

INSTITUTE FOR COMMUNITY INCLUSION, UMASS BOSTON

www.thinkcollege.net

What do you hope to do after college, after you graduate or get your certificate?

After college, I hope to work towards getting my own apartment and get a job working in an office or a library.

What advice do you have for young students with disabilities who aren't sure about college?

Some advice that I have for young students with disabilities who aren't sure about college is that college is one of the best choices you can make for yourself because you will be better prepared for success.

Do you have any advice about college for parents of students of students with disabilities?

Even though you will most likely miss your children while they are at college, you can always tell them to talk to you on the phone if they have a problem or if they are feeling sad and lonely. Also make sure to try and enjoy your new life and go do something new now that you are starting to become an empty nester.

What is something you'll do once the pandemic is over?

Something that I will do once the pandemic is over is I would like to have a party with all of my friends because I really miss them.

ThinkCollege.Net Resources for Students

College Search

This page has information on 300+ college programs for students with ID.

Student Stories

These stories are about students' experiences before, during, and after college.

Handouts in Plain and Clear Language

These publications are written so they are easy to read and understand.

FOLLOW

www.thinkcollege.net

www.facebook.com/thinkcollege

www.twitter.com/thinkcollegeICI

CONTACT

thinkcollegeTA@gmail.com

SUBSCRIBE

www.thinkcollege.net/subscribe-to-mailing-list

The College of New Jersey Career & Community Studies

Career & Community Studies (CCS) is a four-year certificate-based residential program for young adults with intellectual/developmental disabilities. The program is designed to prepare students for adult life through academic rigor, career discovery/readiness, and peer socialization as part of a diverse community of learners at The College of New Jersey.

Click here to visit the program's website.

Watch this video to learn more about CSS. Students, teachers, and mentors talk about academics and college in general.

<https://vimeo.com/6564880>

Thank you to Noelle Anglade for her time and willingness to share a bit about her college experience!

This is a publication of the Think College National Coordinating Center, a project of the Institute for Community Inclusion at the University of Massachusetts Boston, funded by the Office of Postsecondary Education (Grant No. P407B15002). The opinions contained in this document are those of the grantee and do not necessarily reflect those of the funders.

ThinkCollege

NATIONAL COORDINATING CENTER

INSTITUTE FOR COMMUNITY INCLUSION, UMASS BOSTON