What is Leadership & Career Studies (L&CS)?

- A four-year inclusive college certificate program for students with intellectual and developmental disabilities at Temple University
- Students develop academic abilities, career skills, and social maturity while promoting self-determination and independence so that graduates live the life of their choosing as productive, skilled citizens in the community

L&CS

One of five model initiatives in a Model Comprehensive Transition and Postsecondary Programs for Students with Intellectual Disabilities (TPSID) grant award for the Pennsylvania Inclusive Higher Education Consortium (PIHEC) led by Millersville University

Think back to when you were 18.

What goals did you have?

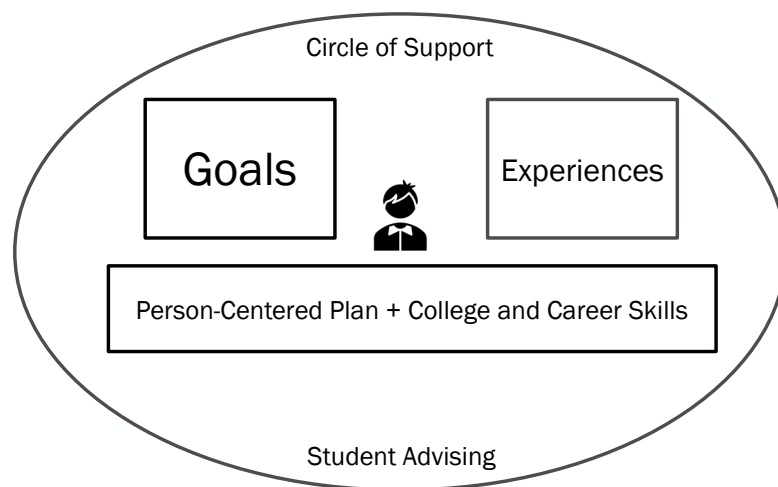

What experiences did you want?

What skills did you need to get there?

career goals,
skills,
experiences,
and supports

Component 1: Person-Centered Planning

- ▶ Start of program and annually
- ▶ Student, program team, advisor
- ▶ Overall plan of long-term goals, strengths, needs
- ▶ Associated one-page summary (Charting the LifeCourse Nexus, 2020)

Component 1: Person-Centered Planning

Person-Centered Planning One-Page Summary

What people like and admire about me:

My long-term goals:

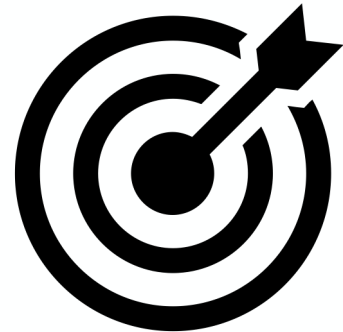

How to best support me:

Component 2: Review of College and Career Skills

Academic & Career Habits	Community Engagement	Balance of Multiple Roles	Self-Direction
Attendance and punctuality	Commitment	Persistence	Communicates needs
Use of resources	Respect	Responsibility	Anticipates needs
Communication	Flexible attitude (or flexible thinking)	Collaboration	Advocates for own needs
Quality of work	Responsible risk-taking	Independence	Accesses health care
Acceptance of direction and constructive criticism	Interpersonal skills	Engagement	Manages personal finances
Technological know-how	Curiosity

Component 3: Goal Setting, Progress Monitoring, and Self-Evaluation

- ▶ Students select and set their goals:
 - ▶ Based on their strengths, long-term goals, and support needs (Person-Centered Plan one-page summary sheet - Component 1)
 - ▶ From the College and Career Skills (Component 2)
 - ▶ Peer mentors and/or advisors provide support

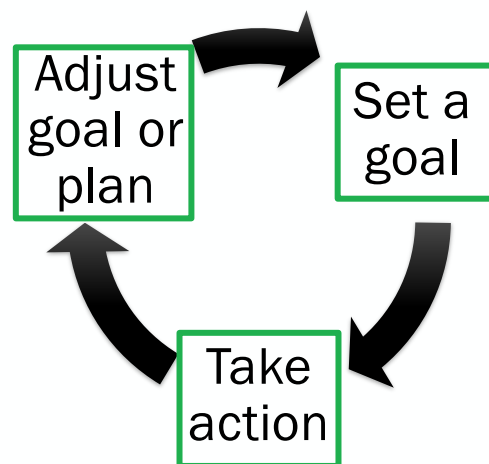

Component 3: Goal Setting, Progress Monitoring, and Self-Evaluation

Why is setting goals in college important?

- ▶ Predictor of postschool success in secondary transition for students with disabilities (Mazzotti et al., 2021)
- ▶ Maximizes opportunities for growth
- ▶ Connection between goals and current and future roles

11

Component 3: Goal Setting, Progress Monitoring, and Self-Evaluation

Component 3: Goal Setting, Progress Monitoring, and Self-Evaluation

Goals
- First, review your Person-Centered Plan One-Page Summary. - Next, review the list of College and Career Skills under Academic and Career Habits, Cultural Know-how, Balance of Multiple Roles, and Self-Direction. - Pick a College and Career Skill you would like to work on this semester. Think about how it connects to the long-term goals in your Person-Centered Plan. - Decide how you will track your progress and write a SMART goal. - Work on your goal, then review progress with your advisor two times during the semester.
What is the first College and Career Skill you would like to work on?
How does it connect to your Person-Centered Plan?
How will you keep track of your learning?
Write a SMART goal for the College and Career Skill – S = specific, M = measurable, A = achievable, R = realistic, T = timely. What date did you set your SMART goal?

Work on your goal. Be sure to track your progress!
Advising Review #1: Date
Advising Review #1: How is your progress?
Advising Review #2: Date
Advising Review #2: How is your progress?

Goal Example

Kyle

What is the first skill would you like to work on?	1. Communication 2. Commitment
How will you learn this skill?	1. Learn communication skills by asking a question each week in at least one of my classes. I will take learning the skills one step at a time and may increase communication during the semester. 2. I want to learn commitment by advocating for myself. If another plan comes up at the last minute, sometimes I have to say "no." Sometimes two plans happen at the same time.
How will you keep track of your learning?	1. Check-off asking a question in class each week. 2. To keep track of commitment, I will use my planner to make sure that I do not have two plans at the same time. Schedule for another time or say "no" if I already have a commitment.
Write a SMART goal for the skill – S = specific, M = measurable, A = achievable, R = realistic, T = timely.	Kyle will keep track of this goal by asking a question each week for now, but this may increase throughout the semester, and Kyle will use his planner to write in his schedule on each Monday.
What date did you set your SMART goal?	9/13/21

14

Goal Example

Domere

What is the first skill would you like to work on?	Learning about a specific country of choice.
How will you learn this skill?	By watching videos or reading articles about the country I picked.
How will you keep track of your learning?	Writing with my notebook to keep track of my notebook. By memory.
Write a SMART goal for the skill – S = specific, M = measurable, A = achievable, R = realistic, T = timely.	S-Search for a specific country. M-Write down information about a country from a video or article. Online research. A-Begin gathering basic demographic information. R-By Friday evening. T-At least once per week.
What date did you set your SMART goal?	9/2/2021

Component 4: Circle of Support Meetings

- Biweekly meetings between students and their peer mentors
- Agenda
 - Check-in
 - Goals/plans from last meeting
 - Classes – assignments, wins, challenges, supports
 - Extracurriculars– involvement, wins, challenges, supports
 - CCLM - goals and experiences
 - Wrap-up

Description

There are 7 recognized Fraternities within the IFC, each founded on a unique set of principles and values. Recruitment is a time where potential new members get the opportunity to meet members of each of these chapters in order to identify where they believe they best fit. Throughout this rush period, which is typically about a weeklong, we encourage those interested in joining an IFC fraternity to interact with as many fraternities as possible in order to find the fraternity they want to join. In order to join a fraternity at Temple, there are several requirements: 12 credits, and at least a 2.5 GPA. While 2.5 is the minimum for the council, individual chapters might have a different GPA minimum, such as a 2.75. Be sure to ask every fraternity you speak with about their specific membership standards.

Description

College life can get busy quickly! Taking care of ourselves can help us show up more fully to all that we care about. Planning ahead and scheduling time for self-care can make routines more sustainable and less stressful. This workshop will explore ways to incorporate self-care into daily life as a college student.

Experiences Example - Paul

Cultural Know-How

Experience 1: What skill area is your first experience focused on?	I went to my first club last year for Temple (Wandering Studios). I enjoyed it, but I want to try something else. I might still stay with Wandering Studios.
Experience 1: What campus activity will you participate in gain this experience?	I'm interested in joining the club Aperture Agency Joined the club on Owl Connect on 9/10/21
Experience 1: What date did you participate in this experience?
Experience 2: What skill area is your second experience focused on?	I'm interested in navigating campus facilities. One area I would like to navigate is the cafeteria.
Experience 2: What campus activity will you participate in to gain this experience?	I would go to the student center and find out where the other cafeterias are. Then I would go to the cafeterias and find out what they have to offer.
Experience 2: What date did you participate in this	On 9/27/21 we checked out the food court in Morgan Hall and the food court in the student center!

What do students think?

“Getting myself more connected to the people around me... I feel like this would help me whenever I get a job.”

Domere

“My big goal is to work!”

Kyle

What do peer mentors think?

“As we’ve transitioned back to campus, it’s been a really important conversation... it’s nice for us to have open communication about... shared goals.”

Olivia

“It’s good to take a step back sometimes and look at the bigger picture and see what I can accomplish.”

Jenna
