

MASSACHUSETTS CENTER FOR INCLUSIVE HIGHER EDUCATION & TRANSITION
INSTITUTE FOR COMMUNITY INCLUSION, UMASS BOSTON

Expanding Pathways. Empowering Futures.

The Massachusetts Center for Inclusive Higher Education and Transition at the Institute for Community Inclusion at UMass Boston provides training and technical assistance to enhance inclusive higher education and transition services for people with intellectual and developmental disabilities (IDD) across Massachusetts.

OUR GOAL

To support professional educators, service providers, and families to improve transition services that help people with IDD go to college, secure meaningful employment, and live well in their communities.

The Center offers training and support to:

- » high schools and school districts
- » colleges and universities
- » disability service agencies
- » families and caregivers

OUR SERVICES

- » Consultation
- » Customized on-site training sessions
- » Transition services assessments
- » Online courses
- » Online discussion groups
- » Webinars

OUR PROJECTS

UMass Boston Transition Leadership Program

The program prepares professionals to address the transition needs of students with IDD and earn the Massachusetts Transition Specialist Endorsement and/or the national certification from the Council for Exceptional Children's Division on Career Development and Transition (DCDT).

Massachusetts Inclusive Postsecondary Education (MAIPSE)

The Center provides comprehensive training, technical assistance, and professional development to the Department of Higher Education and public colleges and schools to improve inclusive higher education and college-based transition services.

CONNECT WITH US!

Email: MACenterTA@umb.edu

MassInclusiveEducation.org