Overall purpose:

- Share findings with key stakeholders and thought leaders
- Inform ongoing work
- Confirm implications and set the agenda for future research

The bottom right corner features the State Employment Leadership Network logo and text.

3 Organizing Themes

- Meaningful engagement and involvement of individuals and families in the employment process
- Provider agencies' capacity to carry out effective employment supports
- Policies at both the state and national levels underscore and prioritize employment

The bottom right corner features the State Employment Leadership Network logo and text.

Process

- Roll out over a six month process
- Development of draft papers around the 3 themes with feedback from content experts
- Three pronged approach:
 - In person listening sessions
 - Online events
 - In person meeting in Washington, DC.

Culminating in special journal issue Spring, 2018.

In-person listening sessions

- May focus on one theme or all three themes, depending on audience
- Have specific in-person listening sessions for self-advocates, hosted in conjunction with SABE.
- “Knowledge to action” agenda that will help to shape future priorities and move research findings into everyday practice

Online events

- Idea Scale
 - Week of 7/24 (engaging families)
 - Week of 9/18 (provider capacity)
 - Week of 10/9 (systems and policy)
- Targeted webinars (e.g. SARTAC, Supporting Families, July “44” webinar)

In person event in Washington, DC

- Provide an orientation to the three themes as well as the State of the Science process
- Facilitate discussion and ongoing dialogue throughout the day
- Identify priorities for future research agenda

- Recommendations for key leaders to target for in-person event in Washington, D.C.?
- Other thoughts about structure/goals for the in-person event?
- Any other venues/stakeholders we're leaving out?
- Other ideas?
