To Whom it May Concern,

CHS of Sedalia, Missouri has made a significant positive difference in the life of my son with a disability, Dylan Rogers. Dylan and our family became acquainted with CHS as he was able to begin employment exploration during his recovery from a traumatic brain injury due to a motor vehicle accident. During this very trying time for my son, CHS's staff and services have always provided facilitation to meet his needs to become employed.

Being able to advocate for a family member with a disability is a need that requires agencies, staff and services beyond the realm of awareness commonly possessed by family members and caregivers. When Dylan was able, staff at CHS were able to assist him in acquiring a seasonal part-time position to begin his journey in the workforce. Before this happened Dylan was struggling daily with finding a purpose in his daily activities. He had a routine of therapeutic activities, appointments and daily tasks to fill his days. However, he felt unsatisfied and as if there was something else he needed to be doing.

Dylan also had very specific requirements for the nature of employment he would be comfortable being a part of. CHS was very attentive to his interests and preferences. Staff was able to secure employment that met his wants and needs. Since his first position Dylan has secured employment at a rate that was exactly matched to his desires, abilities and preferences, all with support from CHS's employment services. With one other more strenuous seasonal position fulfilled after his first, he is currently employed full time in a position that is exactly suited to his liking.

Before CHS assisted Dylan in securing his current employment, he was unsettled and wanting more from life with a strong desire to have a job. His overall well-being was affected by this missing piece of his life. Now he has such a sense of accomplishment and pride for his hard work on a daily basis, all because of CHS employment services. Our family will forever be grateful for what they have made possible for Dylan.

Sincerely,
Heidi Rogers
