

SELN Monthly Network Meeting

Key Takeaways

April 23, 2025

Overview:

- The meeting featured a Data Minute on identifying outcomes that meet competitive integrated employment expectations, a walk-through of the new SELN Hub website, the Federal Information Hub created by NASDDDS, and information on future meetings including this year's Annual Meeting.

Data Minute:

- Competitive integrated employment (CIE) for people with intellectual and developmental disabilities (IDD) is the expected outcome of federally funded services, so it is important to identify CIE outcomes apart from other employment circumstances and terms that are not CIE.
- If we can respond yes to questions about whether the employment is in a community setting and is equivalent in terms of benefits, compensation and other characteristics to positions held by people without disabilities, the outcome is likely to be CIE.
- If we can respond yes to whether the employer provides other services besides employment and has created the employment opportunity specifically for people with disabilities, the outcome is not considered CIE.
- For more information, please read this Data Note on finding data on CIE.

Save the Date for the Annual Meeting:

- This year's Annual Meeting will take place in Alexandria, VA from October 21-23, 2025. More details will follow soon.

SELN Hub Refresh:

- The SELN Hub is the best way to connect with members and with the ICI and NASDDDS teams, learn about SELN events and activities, engage in discussions, and access the SELN's library of internal and external resources. Members watched a video walking them through the updated SELN Hub.
- Members said they were most excited about using the Hub more than they had before because it seems much easier with the new features and design and the ability to connect easily with each other.
- Members discovered new features including badges that identify members' affiliations and the easy process to upload resources to the library.
- Moving forward, members saw themselves using the Hub to look at the resources posted by other states to see what they are doing.
- The SELN team is creating more resources to help members engage with the Hub and will post them soon.
- Members with questions about the Hub can reach out to Amy Huppi or Kara Sexton or post their questions on the Help Discussion Forum.

Federal Updates:

- NASDDDS has created a hub to share verified information about the many federal-level updates and changes.
- Members can also see some state-specific information pertaining to these changes, and view infographics explaining federal programs and their services.

- Members can learn more by visiting NASDDDS Federal Information Hub.
- The May monthly network meeting will be conducted as an open forum, and members will also have an opportunity to ask questions and discuss concerns pertaining to federal updates at that meeting.
