Sample video resources for sharing

"The important thing about going to college for anybody is that's where we really grow up. We have opportunities to work, we have opportunities to network, we're finding new friends, and that's the same for young people with disabilities."

-from Driving Inclusiveness in Higher Education (video)

Rethinking College video and viewer's guide is great to share with new audiences. It encourages discussion and questioning about college options for students with intellectual disability. All materials are free to access and download on our website:

Our College Search is one of a kind! Search by state, program type, program features, and more. Use the Conducting a College Search guide to understand what kind of questions are best to ask and keep track of your thoughts.

Technical Assistance Providers are always available, for anyone.
