QUALITY

“...are we delivering the services we think we are delivering?...” (Brekke, 1987)

For example, only 26% of job search time is invested in networking, a recommended practice.

Do we have tools to measure quality?

Employment consultants said:

I find that it causes me to pause for a moment and reflect on how am spending my time, energy, and resources.

I do like how it is bringing attention to how I spend my time.

I love how simple it is.
